Churning out music for almost a decade, Chris Komus aka Lo Progression is a psychedelic trance producer from Winnipeg, Canada. Focusing now on producing the full-on psytrance sounds under Lo Progression and progressive psy/progressive house/tech house/and minimal sounds as Chris Komus, his sound is versatile, eclectic, and always evolving. Having experimented with various other genres of music prior to psytrance, Lo Progression borrows from a variety of genres and infuses it into dance-floor heavy, epic, and loud rockin' psychedelic music to the more melodic, groovy, techy and progressive sounds of progressive house and progressive psy as Chris Komus.

Lo Progression @ Winnipeg Psychedelic's
Psylent Night (Dec '07)

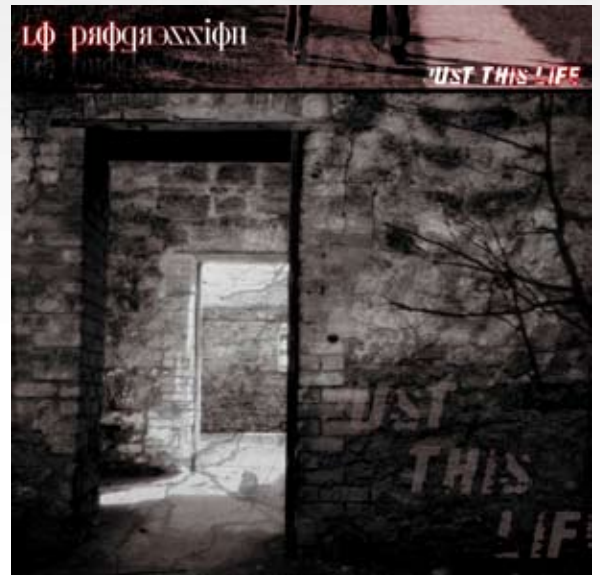

Saskatchewan (Aug '07 & '08), and opened for minimal tech acts such as Ryan Elliot (Dec '07) and Maetrik (Apr '08).

With a busy schedule of gigs, both as a Live PA act and also as a DJ act, Lo Progression is known as one of the key players in bringing psytrance to Winnipeg. He has opened for Infected Mushroom (Sept '07 and Mar '06), Hallucinogen (June '07), Nuclear Ramjet (Feb '08), and played at Connect Festival in Lo Progression is heavily involved in pushing the psychedelic sound as co-promoter and resident DJ/Live PA of Winnipeg Psychedelic Productions, filling clubs with hundreds of psy fans as currently one of Winnipeg's most successful crews. Bringing in acts from Western Canada, including Edmonton and Vancouver, Winnipeg Psychedelic aims to build up the psytrance scene not only in Winipeg but across western Canada.
